Resources to Consider

Conduct and academic integrity processes may be stressful, and we strive to reduce that stress as much as possible. We also encourage students to reach out for other systems of support. The following resources may be helpful. What is useful will vary based on individual circumstances, and we encourage you to reach out and get support. Please don’t hesitate to ask your case manager for any assistance.

❖ Student Rights and Responsibilities: http://studentconduct.gwu.edu/
  ➢ SRR manages most reports of student misconduct on campus, including violations of the Code of Student Conduct and the Code of Academic Integrity.

Additional Resources

- Academic Advising: https://academiccommons.gwu.edu/academic-advising
  - Students seeking counseling and/or need information regarding their current academic status after or during their case could reach out to an advisor.
- Bias Incident Response Team: https://diversity.gwu.edu/bias-incident-response-team
  - Collects and responds to online reports of bias incidents at GW. The BIRT will convene to ensure that students have access to appropriate support and to assist the university in a coordinated campus response to bias-related incidents.
- Campus Living and Residential Engagement: https://living.gwu.edu/, 202-994-2552
  - Students can contact the above resource for issues regarding their residential environment on-campus and housing assignment.
- Center for Career Services: https://careerservices.gwu.edu/, 202-994-6495
  - Offers career coaching, self-assessment, and many more services. If you are evaluating how your conduct situation may affect your future career prospects, they can assist you in considering how to address this as you search.
- Disability Support Services: https://disabilitysupport.gwu.edu/, (202) 994-8250
  - Students needing accommodations to fully participate in the conduct process should request those as soon as possible from their case manager. Students seeking other accommodations should work with DSS.
- Financial Aid Services Office: https://financialaid.gwu.edu/, (202) 994-6620
  - If your conduct case could involve removal from housing, suspension, dismissal, or failure of a course, we recommend checking with Financial Aid regarding any effects of aid you receive.
- International Services Office: https://internationalservices.gwu.edu/, (202) 994-4477
  - If you are an international student and your ability to attend the university may be limited as a result of your case, we encourage you to reach out to the ISO as soon as possible, so they could help you anticipate any visa issues.
- Office for Study Abroad: https://studyabroad.gwu.edu/, 202-994-1649
  - Students interested in Study Abroad opportunities can call to find out how their cases might be affected or help you anticipate any issues
- Student Advocacy and Support Corps: https://www.sa.gwu.edu/asc
  - ASC is a service of the GW Student Association. These volunteers are available to serve as advisors in any SRR process. Please note that SRR does not recommend any particular advisors, as this is a personal choice for the involved parties.
