Academic Integrity is an integral part of the educational process, and GW takes these matters very seriously. Violations of academic integrity occur when students fail to cite research sources properly, engage in unauthorized collaboration, falsify data, and in other ways outlined in the Code of Academic Integrity. Students accused of academic integrity violations should contact the Office of Academic Integrity to learn more about their rights and options in the process. Outcomes can range from failure of assignment to expulsion from the university, including a transcript notation. The Office of Academic Integrity maintains a permanent record of the violation. For more information, please refer to the Office of Academic Integrity website [https://studentconduct.gwu.edu/academic-integrity], email [rights@gwu.edu], or call [202-994-6757].

Cases referred to the Office of Academic Integrity may be resolved through formal hearings or a process of mutual agreement.
